

JOB POSTING

POSITION: Permanent full-time position as palliative/cancer/ALS community healthcare nurse

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 1st 2022 or before

POSTING PERIOD: May 2022

Classification: NOVA West Island community staff nurse

Salary: As per salary scale of Collective Agreement

Hours of work: 7.25 hours per day + on-call and occasional weekend duty

Area of work: West Island (requires driving and use of own car)

Responsibilities & Qualifications:

Provides primary care and education to palliative, cancer or ALS clients and families in a community setting

Functions as an integral member of the multidisciplinary healthcare team

Participates in wellness/support programs, teaching courses, preceptoring engagements and other business ventures aimed at promoting health in the community as needed

Works complementarily with other healthcare organizations and professionals

Participates actively in public awareness activities to promote NOVA West Island's programs and services

Current registration with OIIQ

Functional bilingualism (English & French)

Clinical experience in oncology/palliative care and/or community health care

Capable of performing and communicating bio-psycho-social assessments

Excellent communication, time management and organization skills

Able to work independently and as a team member

Advanced educational preparation is an asset

Please submit application in writing to Marie-France Juneau, Executive Director